

You have many gifts and talents.
So, let's explore then share with others!

Gifts of the Head are things you know about.

"I know a lot, and some of the things I know about:"

Head: What are some of the things you know about?
How might we share the things you know about with others?

Gifts: special aptitude or ability, desire to give and share. Our little something extra.

You have many gifts and talents. So, let's explore then share with others!

Gifts of the Hands are things you can create, build, or do.
"Some of the things I can create or do:"

Hands: What is something you can do with your hands?
What can you create, build, or simply do?
How might we share that?

Adapted from Mike Green, ABCD

Gifts: special aptitude or ability, desire to give and share. Our little something extra.

You have many gifts and talents.
So, let's explore then share with others!

Gifts of the Heart are things you care about.
"Some of the things I love and care about:"

Heart: What is something you really care about?
Who else might care about that?
How might we share that?

Gifts: special aptitude or ability, desire to give and share. Our little something extra.
